REPORT OF Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of the Town of Weare:

I herewith submit my sixth annual report as superintendent of Weare schools.

All the schools in Weare at the present time are provided with teachers, with the exception of one at the Center. The work of the Grammar School at East Weare has been much interfered with because of the inability to secure a permanent teacher. The outlook for the rest of the year of supplying a teacher for this school, or any school without a teacher, is not encouraging. It is quite generally known, I presume, that the shortage of teachers all over the country is a problem that is troubling not only all school officials, but government officials in state and nation. So many schools have been closed in some states for want of teachers, that the Governors of those states have issued proclamations to the people, calling upon them to awake to the serious nature of the situation, and asking for volunteers to enter the teacher's profession. U. S. Commissioner of Education Claxton says: "There are more than 20,000 schools in the country closed for want of teachers and probably 500,000 children not receiving any instruction this year." Add to this the fact that thousands now teaching cannot meet even the minimum requirements for a teacher, and we catch a glimpse of what the present educational conditions mean to the present and future welfare of the nation. Education is a weapon by which Bolshevism, and every other ism detrimental to the principles upon stand solidly behind it with enthusiastic support. The school next year will have thirty pupils at least. There are about twenty-five high schools in the state, most of them long established, that have less than that number. When twenty boys and girls the first year enter a high school and from ten to fifteen more are ready and anxious to enter the second year, there can be no disputing the demand for and need of a high school in Weare.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED S. LIBBEY,

Superintendent.

WEARE, N. H., February 12, 1920.

would agree with me that they are getting inestimable good from their practical courses. The town is to be congratulated, not only for having a high school, but for having such excellent accommodations for their high school at a comparatively small cost. The school rooms are very pleasant and well adapted to the present needs of the school. There are, of course, some inconveniences, such as securing water for use in the Domestic Arts department. The girls of the Domestic Arts class have done splendid work this year. The very first week of the year they began canning. They canned fruits and vegetables and made jellies the first four weeks; they made a most creditable exhibition of their work at the Hopkinton fair. They are making rapid progress in their sewing, and have already cut, fitted and made many useful garments for their personal use. They have served in the dining room five meals, wholly planned, prepared and arranged for by themselves. All this work is exceedingly practical, and the girls are intensely interested in the work. Miss Moore deserves much credit for the excellent work done in this department with the eight girls enrolled in it.

There are twelve boys taking the Agricultural Course. Their work this year in agriculture consists of a study of soils and horticulture. The work thus far has been in the nature of a preparation for their summer farm projects. The school work of these boys extends through the summer and their work then, as now, will be under the direction and supervision of Principal Dalzell. These boys already have learned much of a helpful and practical nature that can be taken back to the home and made good use of. They also have made excellent progress in their wood working. Among other things made, has been the body of a dump cart, which certainly was a credit to first year high school boys. It is not an easy task to start a high school and have the work such as to interest all its pupils the first year. I believe this has been done in the Weare High School. The town should be proud of its high school and which this government is founded, must be fought. The hope of maintaining this country as a democracy is in our public schools. They are the most important institutions we have, and we should zealously guard their interests, even if it means personal sacrifice. Our own state is affected by this teacher shortage and many schools are closed. The town of Weare is feeling the effects to a minor degree. But what as to another year? There is no indication that conditions will be in the least improved next year, in fact they seem very likely to be worse. The reason for the teacher shortage is because of false ideas of economy in running schools in the past. We have had wrong ideas about teachers and their real importance as economic factors in communities and in the country as a whole. We have hired them cheap; we have tried to hire them cheap, and have undoubtedly paid too much for some of them even then. The fact remains, however, that today many of the very best are being driven from the teaching profession by economic pressure. They cannot live on the salaries paid, and are flocking into more lucrative occupations which require no special knowledge nor training, and the schools are suffering in consequence. I have spoken of this matter at some length, not that I fail to realize that you, as a Board, do not fully comprehend the situation; I know that you do. But it is important that the citizens should fully realize it and arouse themselves to meet it. If we are to have schools next year we must be ready to meet the bills necessary to have them. Teachers will probably cost us $800 more next year in the elementary schools of Weare than they will this year.

The most important thing of the year in Weare, so far as education is concerned, has been the establishment of the Weare High School. It is already a success. Twenty interesting and interested boys and girls are enrolled there this first year. A record exceeding the most sanguine hopes of the school officials. They are doing some excellent work too. Could you see and hear them, as I do, you
